Farmer Ben's Animals (A2)

Farmer Ben owns a large farm in the countryside. Every day begins before sunrise because the animals need food and care. He starts by feeding the cows and checking that they have enough clean water. After that, he visits the chickens and collects fresh eggs.

Ben has three horses. Every afternoon, he brushes them and takes them for a short walk around the farm. He believes that exercise keeps them healthy and happy.

The sheep spend most of the day in a green field. They stay together because sheep feel safer in groups. The goats are very curious and often climb on rocks or wooden fences.

Near the pond, the ducks swim and splash in the water. Ben also has two rabbits that live in comfortable hutches. They enjoy eating carrots, lettuce, and cabbage.

Although farming is hard work, Ben loves taking care of his animals. He says that every day on the farm is different, and that is what makes his job so interesting.

A Visit to Grandpa's Farm (A2)

Last Saturday, Lucy and her brother Tom visited their grandparents' farm. They were excited because they loved spending time with the animals.

When they arrived, Grandpa showed them around the farm. First, they visited the cows. Grandpa explained how the cows were milked every morning and every evening. Then they collected eggs from the chicken coop and fed the ducks by the pond.

After lunch, Lucy brushed one of the horses while Tom helped his grandfather clean the stable. Later, they gave carrots to the rabbits and fresh grass to the sheep and goats.

Before going home, the family enjoyed a picnic under a big tree. Grandpa told stories about life on the farm when he was a young boy. Lucy and Tom listened carefully and promised to visit again soon.

They agreed that a day on the farm was both fun and educational.
